

During upcoming Reader's Workshop sessions, students will collaborate to create a chart that shares answers to the questions of WHO reads, and WHEN, WHERE, WHAT, and WHY readers read.

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

Your help will provide our class with many opportunities to see that reading happens all the time, for various purposes, and in many different places. If you have time, please fill in the chart below and return it to school tomorrow. There will be many different possible answers, and I've filled in just a few possible answers to help you. Circle any that apply and add your own in the empty spaces. If you need additional space, please use the reverse side to add additional responses.

YOUR HELP IS GREATLY APPRECIATED!

Who Reads...	What I Read...	When I Read...	Where I Read...	Why I Read... moms	newspapers	morning	car	to learn dads	magazines	day	work	to build grandparents	books	night	kitchen	to fix children	pamphlets	at work	bedroom	to cook students	brochures	when driving	living room	to relax mechanics	ads	when cooking	family room	to communicate cooks	catalogues	when shopping	dining room	to drive doctors	letters		outside	to fix bus drivers	cards		garage notes
	lists
	directions
	maps
	cookbooks
	recipes
	email			