

Now it's your turn!

In this activity, students and tutors take turns reading to improve letter, word, and phrase recognition.

The first player draws cards from the deck one at a time and reads aloud the letters/words on each card- with help if necessary.

This player continues drawing and reading new cards from the deck until a “Now it’s your turn” card is drawn.

At the end of their turn, the player shuffles all the cards they read and places them on the bottom of the stack.

The player to their right begins drawing and reading cards until they draw a “Now it’s your turn” card.

Play continues until time is up.
